The Made in Italy is not just a Production Choice, but it represents a Strategy as proposed by Ing. Lelio Gavazza, Executive VP of BVLGARI

Today, it is fundamental to have the capability to Self Adapt to the World Evolution dealing with Markets, Competitors, Society, Technologies & Geo Politics. So the Modern Engineers should be ready to take Leadership by being able to evaluate Risk and use Opportunities while developing new Strategies. Lelio Gavazza proposes the Fundamental Concept about Made in Italy as Strategy based on his experience moving from Exxon to Bulgari, passing through Consulting, Textile Industries, Fashion and Luxury, from Europe to China and Back. His experience outlines the Importance of strong foundations, flexibility and capability face Challenges and develop Strategies for Business, Companies and People. Made in Italy as culture from Roman Ages to Modern Creative Talents is a real Strategy. These aspects are crucial to support the growth of a Company as well as of a Business, therefore they are even crucial for the People Development and to create a Synergy leading to success.

His Experience starts as Plant Process Engineer of a Multinational Company that decided to face new Challenges in Consulting and then to develop his ability as Top Manager in Industries operating over different business up to arrive to Global Executive Role within the major Luxury Group

In facts, Strategy is the art of "bien diriger", as stated by Gen. Jomini two centuries ago, so it is fundamental to adopt a Proactive & Smart Approach based on the Capability to analyze problems, identify effective solutions and lead the whole organization to success, readapting dynamically to the changing conditions... by this approach an Engineer could identify that Made in Italy is by itself a Winning Strategy
